

PRES. TAFT AT
MILLBURYVisit to His Aunt Della Toney
Yesterday

SPEAKS AT WORCESTER

To the Members of Railway Brotherhood—President Favors Labor Organizations, but Also Makes Some Reservations.

Worcester, Mass., April 4.—President Taft put in a busy Sunday yesterday, with a visit to "Aunt Della" Toney and the scenes of many boyhood reminiscences at Millbury and an address here yesterday afternoon before the joint meeting of the brotherhoods in train service—a mass meeting of nearly 2,000 railroad employees at Mechanics hall.

Mrs. Toney, who is 90, remembered Saturday how fond the president was of apple pie when he used, as a little boy, to spend the summers at Millbury. Consequently she refused assistance Saturday and baked the pie herself.

Millbury itself has never been so excited before as it was Saturday and yesterday.

The president declared that he believed in labor organizations. But, as chief magistrate of the nation, he added, he believed also in the right of every man to labor as he will, to earn the wages that he will, and if he chooses, to stay out of labor organizations. The president's first address was greeted with a wild burst of applause. His second statement received only a scattering of applause. Later, however, the president again aroused the railroad men to enthusiasm by declaring he believed their organizations were necessary to deal with organizations of capital and by detailing his deep interest in legislation looking to further requirements of safety appliances and the liability of the employer.

The president discussed the pending anti-injunction bill at some length and continued:

"I believe, and my predecessor, Theodore Roosevelt, believed that the power to issue injunctions ought to be defined and limited in such a way that there was to be in future no danger of ill-considered issuing of such injunctions. We have not a bill of that sort in Congress."

"I don't know whether I am going to get that bill through or not. We promised it in the Republican platform, and that is the platform I was elected on. But I was talking to a gentleman yesterday about it, and he said: 'What is the good of passing it? You will just be damned by both sides.' I said: 'The good of passing it seems to me in this. That there are two small reasons for it—the first is that we promised it, and the second is that it is right.'"

"You do not believe, neither do I, in boycotting," said Mr. Taft. "You don't believe in the suppression of strikes, nor do I, because it is a blind movement that never accomplishes anything. You do believe in organization and in standing together, and so do I. You have reached the conclusion that everything that does injure to the railroad that employ you does injury to you."

The president said he was trying to get through Congress a bill amending the interstate commerce law and that objections had been made to it because he had consulted six railroad presidents before making his recommendations.

"I consulted shippers; I consulted the interstate commerce commission; I consulted everybody that had an interest," continued the president, "and then it occurred to me that possibly the railroad presidents knew something about interstate commerce, and so I consulted them, and that, to some people, seems the bill. 'Now, gentlemen, if there is one thing that I hate, it is sham, it is hypocrisy. It is fraud, in representing a virtue when it does not exist.'"

LAVA STILL FLOWS.

Movement, However, Is Slow—Borrelli and Belpasso Escape.

Rome, April 4.—A heavy fall of snow throughout the night mingled with a rain of stones and cinders, pouring from the craters of Mt. Etna. The movement of the flow of lava was steady, but slower Saturday. Both Borrelli and Belpasso appear to have escaped. The principal stream passing to the eastward of these villages. The people of the region are calm.

Avoid Harsh Drugs

Many Cathartics Tend to Cause Injury to the Bowels.

If you are subject to constipation, you should avoid strong drugs and cathartics. They only give temporary relief and their reaction is harmful and sometimes more annoying than constipation. They in no way effect a cure, and their tendency is to weaken the already weak organs with which they come in contact.

We honestly believe that we have the best constipation treatment ever devised. Our faith in it is so strong that we sell it on the positive guarantee that it shall not cost the user a cent, if it does not give entire satisfaction and completely remedy constipation. This preparation is called Rexall Ointment. These are prompt, soothing and most effective in action. They are made of a recent chemical discovery. Their principal ingredients are odorless, tasteless and colorless. Combined with other well-known ingredients, long established for their usefulness in the treatment of constipation, it forms a tablet which is eaten just like candy. They may be taken at any time, either day or night, without fear of their causing any inconvenience whatever. They do not grip, purge nor cause nausea. They are ideal for children, weak, delicate persons and aged people, as well as for the most hearty person.

They come in two size packages, 12 tablets 10 cents, 30 tablets 25 cents. Remember, you can obtain them only at our store—The Rexall Store, The Rexall Store Pharmacy, Burt H. Wells, proprietor.

BUCKET BROKERS RAIDED.

Government Agents Make Arrests in Philadelphia, Penn., April 4.—Six men were arrested in this city Saturday in the government's campaign against the bucket shops.

All the arrests were accomplished without much trouble, and after a hard hearing before United States Commissioner Craig the men were held in $2,500 bail for a further hearing next Friday morning. Bail was furnished.

The men arrested are: George Turner of New York, a member of the Philadelphia Consolidated Stock exchange and formerly connected with Haight & Pense, who at one time conducted a chain of brokerage offices throughout the East.

Humphrey Owen, New York, said to be a member of the Philadelphia Consolidated exchange.

Albert Ford, Norwood, Penn., telegraph operator, arrested at the office of Boggs & Co., one of the indicted concerns.

Marshall F. Parrish, Philadelphia, alleged to be the secretary of the Philadelphia Consolidated exchange.

Harry S. Stumpf, Philadelphia, member of the Consolidated exchange and a member of the brokerage firm of Harvey & Stumpf.

Most of the men were arrested while on the floor of the Philadelphia Consolidated Stock exchange, which the government declares is one of the centers of the bucket shop business.

The Philadelphia Consolidated Stock exchange came into notoriety five years ago, when proceeding were threatened before Attorney-General Hampton L. Garrison of Pennsylvania, by certain persons, who complained that they had been swindled by so-called "bucket shop" men, who were alleged to have done business on the floor of the exchange, which then had headquarters in the Philadelphia Bourse.

George Cortelyou, chief of the postal inspectors in this city, who had charge of the arrests here, said Saturday that the arrest of the alleged bucket shop men here is "the most important of the whole outfit."

"The Consolidated exchange in this city," continued Mr. Cortelyou, "was the center of the system, of which the operators in other cities were merely branches. Stocks were bought and sold without the exchange of certificates or shares, and all the transactions in other cities had to be cleared through the Consolidated exchange here."

GETS BERESFORD ESTATE.

Negro Woman Made Rich Through Compromise of Mexican Claim.

Galveston, Texas, April 4.—Following the sale of part of the estate of the late Lord Delaval Beresford, comes the report that the negro woman, who said she was his common law wife, has received $500,000 and about $100,000 acres of land in Durango, in a settlement of her claim. About 20,000 acres are undivided. She owns 1,000 head of cattle.

Lord Delaval Beresford was killed in a railroad accident four years ago in Canada. Following a trip to England a year ago, when the woman attempted to make a settlement of the estate with the brother of the man, she said was her husband, Lord Charles Beresford of the British navy, the latter came to Mexico several months ago and entered suit to oust the woman from the estate. She proved to the court that Lord Delaval Beresford had introduced her as Mrs. Beresford.

The part of the estate sold to Michigan was the Ojito ranch, near Casa Grande, and the prior authority by the court was $200,000 in American gold.

Boston Woman Finds Rich Brother in Paper's Alaskan Scene.

South Norwalk, Conn., April 4.—Through a newspaper picture of Alaskan life, Mrs. William A. Devine of Boston, has discovered a brother, Michael Dolan, whom she thought dead, but who is a millionaire and willing to share his wealth with her.

The picture was taken by Charles A. Taylor of this city and used by the Boston Globe. Mrs. Devine, who became separated from her brother more than twelve years ago, recognized him in the picture of a man in an auto, and learned from Mr. Taylor that it was taken in Skagway, advertised in the Alaskan town and got in correspondence with Dolan. Now she is about to join him there to make her home with him.

TO SEE HALLEY'S COMET SOON.

Arrangements Being Made to Take Photographs.

Chicago, April 4.—Halley's comet, astronomers announce, will soon be out from behind the sun, which has been between the earth and the tailed star for several weeks. It will then be visible in the morning sky just before sunrise until May 18, when it will cross the face of the sun. Thereafter it will appear in the evening sky.

At the Yerkes observatory at Williams Bay, Wis., astronomers hope to get some fine pictures of the comet between now and next summer. In this work the complicated astronomical instrument, known as the twenty-four inch reflector, is expected to do valuable work.

MAKES TIPPING A CRIME.

Tipsters and Tipped Both Amendable Under Bill Just Reported.

Washington, April 4.—A sub-committee of the house committee on the District of Columbia, headed by Representative Campbell of Kansas, Saturday reported favorably a bill by Representative Murphy of Missouri, under which all tip giving or tip receiving in hotels, restaurants and cafes in Washington, shall constitute a fine not exceeding $500.

Not only are waiters, stewards and porters prohibited from receiving tips, and managers and proprietors of public places are enjoined from allowing their employees to do so, but patrons are prohibited under the same terms, from offering tips.

DISCUSS COURT VACANCY

Eulogies of the Late Senator McLaurin of Mississippi—Eyes Turned on Indiana—Mr. Taft and the West.

Washington, April 4.—New England got a fling in the House Saturday, where for a brief spell was considered the naval appropriation bill, and in consequence of which Representative Foss, the chairman of the naval committee, found opportunity to contrast the long petition which has been received from the ministers of Massachusetts against any more battleships with the cry of the people of New Bedford in 1898, when protection was demanded against dread Spanish warships. The intimation of the chairman was that those who in times of peace deny a naval program in times of war are the first to become greatly excited, lest a foreign warship attack them, and demand protection. Meanwhile the program for two battleships continues to some peril. Not yet do the Republican leaders know whether or not they have sufficient votes to keep two battleships in the naval bill. It is conceded that it can be done only with Democratic aid.

In other respects, it was a solemn day in Congress. Both houses disposed of two orders of business, one devoted to the career of Senator McLaurin, delivering a eulogistic address and giving some literary point to his eulogy by inquiring what constitutes a gentleman and making prose and poetry answer, and then showing that the life of the dead Mississippi senator had been a living exponent of the ideals he espoused.

Those who favor reciprocity with Canada are solicitors for assistance from public opinion to force the House to consent to an appropriation of $25,000 to defray the expenses that may be incurred in negotiating reciprocity treaties with other countries. The Senate attached some amendment to the diplomatic bill, but the House refuses to agree to it and is still fighting the amendment in conference.

Washington is beginning to give the vacant justiceship in the supreme court more attention and some study is being made of the geographical selections made so far. It is noted that there is a concentration of justices in the sixth district, whence hail Justices Harlan, Day and Lurton. There should be only one justice in this circuit. Consequently other circuits are not represented. Chief among these are the circuits which embrace the great states of New York and Pennsylvania. While it is still being said with a great deal of confidence that President Taft will name Solicitor General Bowers for the vacant post, it is contended that if New York makes a sufficient roar about it, the president may be compelled to yield his wishes and select a New Yorker. It is rumored that he has been desirous of having the post of chief justice for New York, Gov. Hughes would be an admirable selection for that honor. But if New York is ineluctable now, it is believed that Mr. Wickersham will be selected and Mr. Bowers be made attorney general. It is known that Mr. Taft has been very anxious to have the name of Mr. Wickersham and also the name of another eastern lawyer, but which is so far whispered in confidence.

The capital is watching Indiana closely, curious to see if Senator Beveridge will be able to prevent the Republican state convention. That week from Indiana the Payne tariff set. Apparently he is in a dilemma. To endorse his own battle against the Payne bill will alienate many of the rock-ribbed Republicans. There are signs that rock-ribbed Republicans in the West are being heard from by the insurgents and progressives. Their growls look ominous. As an element they have not been considered heretofore. Thus it is that the insurgents and progressives are running somewhat to cover. They do not want to get too far away from party lines.

At the end of the month, the president will take another swing in the West, to be gone a week, and it is said that some political speeches are to be made. It is beginning to look as if there were some danger to thrust the president into the foreground as much as possible and make him a rallying point for voters. It is being declared that a turn is being noticed in popular opinion toward him. The presidency is a wonderfully attractive force, unless the occupant of it is thoroughly obnoxious to the people. It is regarded as fortunate that Mr. Taft has met with the inevitable reaction early in his term.

A WORLD'S RECORD.

Twenty-nine Pounds of Butter a Week from One Cow.

Utica, April 4.—A test has recently been conducted by the state agricultural department of a Holstein cow a few days less than three years old, owned by E. La. Munton of Solville, Madison county. In seven days she averaged over 80 pounds of milk a day and from this was made 29 pounds of butter. It is said to be world's record for a cow of her age.

The Care of the Bathroom.

To keep the bathroom in a sanitary condition and insure safety from disease germs, it should be given a daily cleaning and a weekly scrubbing. Each time the tub is used, it should be cleaned, and for this purpose nothing is better than a solution made by dissolving two tablespoonful of Gold Dust washing powder in a gallon of water. Once a week thoroughly scrub and acid tub, basin and other fixtures with hot soda made from the washing powder, and pour down the pipes boiling water to which has been added Gold Dust in proportion of two tablespoonful of Gold Dust to every gallon of water. List and other obstructions may be removed from the water pipes by small hooks or bent hair-pin. Clean the nickel and brass fixtures in bathroom by rubbing with coral, parts of whitening and Gold Dust washing powder.

STOMACH DISTRESS IS ENDED FOREVER

Indigestion, Stomach Gas, Heartburn or Dyspepsia Will Be Relieved in Five Minutes with a Little Diaprepin.

Take your sour, out-of-order stomach—or maybe you call it indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or catarrh of stomach; it doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your pharmacist and ask him to open a 50-cent case of Diaprepin and let you eat one 22-grain tablet and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your former misery.

The correct name for your trouble is food fermentation—food souring; the digestive organs are weak, there is lack of gastric juice; your food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, griping in bowels, tenderness in pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, biliousness, sick headache, nervousness, dizziness or many other similar symptoms.

If your appetite is feeble, and nothing tempts you, or you belch gas or if you feel bloated after eating, or your food lies like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself in five minutes that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this fermentation and begin eating what you want, without fear of discomfort or misery.

Almost instant relief is waiting for you. It is merely a matter of how soon you take a little Diaprepin.

AVIATOR IS DASHED TO DEATH ON ROCKS

Aeroplane Falls from Height of 500 Feet and Is Smashed to Atoms.

San Sebastian, Spain, April 4.—In eight of thousands, M. Le Blond, the famous French aviator, was killed here Saturday, while making an exhibition flight.

He was circling the royal palace of Miramar, when the mechanism of the aeroplane broke and the machine fell on the rocks of the seashore.

Le Blond was dashed to pieces and the immense flying machine smashed to atoms, parts of which fell into the sea, and were carried away by the flood.

The tragedy ended an exhibition in which achievements were contemplated by the noted aviators, who were assembled to compete.

At the time of the tragedy, Le Blond was moving about 30 miles an hour and was 500 feet in the air. The first indication of trouble was when his machine was seen to wobble and drop earthward, with meteor-like rapidity.

A hundred feet from terra firma the horrified spectators saw the machine suddenly swerve to the left, and then rapidly descend toward the jagged rocks on the seashore, with Le Blond clutching the frame of his machine.

Working one of his legs as if trying to stop the momentum of the machine, Le Blond rushed toward the sea for the purpose of alighting the imprisoned man. Before they could reach the beach, however, they saw the machine and man dash onto the rocks, the crash being audible for some distance.

Aviators and others, a few minutes later, reached the scene of the tragedy and found the battered and bleeding form of Le Blond, immeshed in the frame work of the basket of the aeroplane, a part of which had already fallen overhead.

Some of the aviators claim that Le Blond was dead before the machine struck the ground.

Le Blond was about 35 years old, and had been interested in flying machines for years and was considered one of the cleverest French aviators.

The machine he drove was of the Voisin biplane type. Le Blond's last exhibition was in England last fall when he participated in the monoplane and biplane meet in Doncaster and Blackpool.

TO THE WASHBURN, PARSONS!

That Is, If Necessary to Pay Your Debts, Counselors the Bishop.

Middleton, Conn., April 4.—Bishop David H. Moore, presiding eight young ministers Saturday into full membership of the Methodist church, said to them: "In spite of small salaries and slow paying church treasurers, keep your bills paid even if you have to eat two meals a day and wash your own car, and you have all taken a solemn promise not to smoke. Smoking itself is not a capital crime, but it becomes so when by doing it you violate your solemn promise."

Resolutions of regret over the loss of the Rev. F. T. Brown, who had entered the Protestant Episcopal church, were adopted.

YOUTH CAPTURED PAY.

Tells Gaylor He Jumped on Crackman's Back and Held Him.

New York, April 4.—A newboy, 19 years old, told Mayor Gaylor Saturday that he was the real captor of Eddie Fay, the crackman from whose trunk was recovered $75,000 worth of stamps stolen from the post office at Richmond, Va. James Coleman is the youth's name and he wants to share in the $17,000 reward offered for Fay's arrest.

The newboy says he sprang on Fay's back, bore him to the ground and held him until officers came to the man. The boy says he has witnesses to prove it and had a letter from a business man, asking the mayor to look out for his interests.

Trial Divorce Ends in Real One.

Salem, Mass., April 4.—A decree Nial on the ground of desertion was granted Mrs. Sarah E. A. Puffer from the Rev. Charles H. Puffer Saturday by Judge Raymond. No defense was offered, and the proceedings took but a few minutes. Judge Raymond allowed Mrs. Puffer $500 as alimony in a lump sum. This brings in an end the famous Puffer trial divorce. The couple separated in March, 1907.

TAFT MAY SCORE
INSURGENTS

Wickersham to Defend Administration

PRESIDENT TO ADDRESS

The League of Republican Clubs and Attorney General to Deliver His Speech at a Hamilton Dinner Club in Chicago.

Washington, April 4.—Important administration speeches will be delivered next Saturday by President Taft and Attorney General Wickersham. The president will speak here to the League of Republican State Clubs of the District of Columbia on "Republicanism," and his friends predict he may take the opportunity of defining the difference between regular Republicans and insurgents who oppose the "titular head" of the party and who do not strive to make that party live up to its platform pledges. There is little chance that the president will score any of the insurgents, except on the ground of their failure to support party measures.

Several members of the United States Senate, notably Cummins, Deliver and La Follette, have opposed the Taft program consistently, and if a score were to pay his respects to them no one in Washington would be greatly surprised. Besides the president, Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel, Representative McKinley of Illinois, chairman of the Republican congressional committee; Representatives McKinley of California, Longworth of Ohio, and Pennsylvania and each of Wisconsin; John Hays Hammond, Col. John A. Stewart of New York and John C. Caper, Republican national committeeman, are expected to make addresses at the dinner here. No insurgent is included in the long list of speakers, which may or may not be significant.

Attorney General Wickersham's defense of the administration is to be delivered at a dinner of the Hamilton club in Chicago. He is to respond to "The Administration," and there is high authority for saying that he intends to defend his chief and his acts with vim and in no uncertain language. It was reported in Washington last night that Mr. Wickersham's review of events during the year has the approval of Mr. Taft himself.

With the ball opened auspiciously by the president and Mr. Wickersham next week, the dance may be kept going right along up to the opening of the campaign. The president will leave Washington for Buffalo, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and St. Louis late in April and will be away from home for more than a week, possibly ten days. On that trip he will again have opportunities to say things about Congress and about the coming elections. His speech of a few nights ago to the Ohio society of this city showed perhaps one of the arguments which he may advance on that trip, if he deals with the campaign at all. In the speech to the Ohioans, Mr. Taft declared that continuous service for members of Congress was most desirable. He said that the habit of changing representatives and senators every two years was bad for the states. The East, he contended, gained much of its influence through the fact that it had the good sense to keep its Congress representatives in office continuously for many years.

MUST PAY CORPORATION TAX.

Attorney-General So Decides in Case of Massachusetts Real Estate Trusts.

Washington, April 4.—Attorney-General Wickersham has decided that Massachusetts real estate "trusts" are subject to the corporation tax law and must make their returns and pay the tax of 1 per cent. of their net income. The Massachusetts real estate trusts, it was explained here Saturday, were first created to get around certain statutes, limiting corporation holdings of real estate. These trusts are not organized under charters, but are formed by agreement and through declaration of trust.

The title to real estate acquired or controlled is vested in one or more trustees and certificates are issued to parties interested. These certificates are traded in as are shares of stock, and trustees are elected as are directors of corporations. A change of trustees does not effect the trust and the organization is made for profit. The attorney-general held that such trusts exercise all the functions of joint stock companies and therefore are subject to the tax.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

"Billy the Boy Artist," at Barre Opera House To-night.

There never was a cartoon play produced that did not seem to at once jump into public favor and live on and on for years. Of course the former most notable of these were "Peck's Bad Boy" and "Buster Brown." But the new musical comedy fun riot, "Billy the Boy Artist," bids fair to eclipse the records of both of these, for the mischief that this truly American boy has raised through the columns of the Boston Sunday Globe, has made the "Boy Artist" a household phrase in every New England home.

Millions of people have laughed weekly at the consternation of the two professors, Hen, the hired man, and the other characters, all of which appear in the show and lend their aid to Billy in providing an uproarious evening. The 22 musical numbers are all hits of the first magnitude and the chorus of dancing girls is said to be exceptionally clever and all artist's models.

"Billy the Boy Artist" comes to the opera house to-night.

PARKER MAY COURT FATE AGAIN.

In Receptive Mood for Democratic Nomination.

Berlin, April 4.—Alton R. Parker, formerly judge of the supreme court of New York and presidential candidate on the Democratic ticket against Theodore Roosevelt in 1904, is apparently in a receptive mood for the office of leadership of his party in 1912.

In an interview he neither denied nor gave an affirmative answer to the question whether he would again accept the Democratic nomination if he were placed before the convention in the next campaign year.

"The chances for the Democratic party," said Judge Parker, "seem very bright at present, as much of the internal difficulties have been swept away. There are an unusual number of good men, and strong ones, who are already being mentioned for the possible candidacy of 1912. Just who is the most favored by the Democratic leaders, is rather hard to determine, as most of them have been discussed with equal prominence. Apparently, the one most favored in the western states at this time is Mayor Gaylor, whose victory in New York last year was such an overwhelming one."

"It is yet too early to discuss the candidate with any degree of certainty, nor it is possible for me to discuss the probability of my being put forward again by the party. This is a matter which at this time cannot be discussed either by myself or my friends."

Judge Parker seems inclined to the view that a strong movement is on foot in the United States to have the Republican party again have Theodore Roosevelt as its candidate to succeed Mr. Taft.

TO TEACH WOMEN BUSINESS.

Mrs. Julia Ward Howe Starts a Movement Which She Hopes Will Spread.

Boston, April 4.—Mrs. Julia Ward Howe has started among Boston women a movement to study applied economics, relating especially to the increased cost of living. It is her hope that this movement will become national and will be considered seriously by women throughout the country. It was launched at the last meeting of the New England Women's club, of which Mrs. Howe has been the head for many years.

Mrs. Howe says her attention was directed to the agitation of the high cost of living and that she decided that women are not able to cope with financial matters, and cites for example, women left with property to manage and no knowledge of finance or business.

"Mrs. Howe believes that women should understand credit as applied to business methods, since so much of the trading of to-day is done on credit, and how far that principle is responsible for the increased cost of living. She believes that if this movement is successful a great amount of the reproach laid at the door of women for being unbusiness-like, would be done away with."
